RADIO STARS

Yesterday morning, at approximately 9.30, members of our school choir were talking and singing on the radio. It is a relatively new radio station called 'Radio Plus.' All classes gathered the radio to listen to the children's performance. The DJ was fantastic, and every one of the children got the chance to answer questions about Christmas. They came across extremely well—so pleasant and polite. They then performed their version of Little Donkey, whilst Mrs Ball accompanied them on the keyboard. We are all so proud of them. You can easily catch up if you visit their website. Thank you to Mrs Ball for preparing them and for taking them in her own free time. Thanks also to Mrs Maguire for going along too.

ADVENT SERVICE

Children have now made their advent wreaths for the classrooms. It is lovely to see how different classes can add their own stylistic features. Father David visited school on Friday to bless the wreaths, and our Christmas tree, so that they would be ready for when the children returned to school today to light the first candle—hope.

PANTOMINE One last reminder for those parents who have still got to pay for the trip to the Belgrade. Final date for payment is today. Thanks

PHONICS MEETING

Please do come along if you are able to the phonics meeting that is taking place on Thursday of this week. If your child is in Year 1 (or even YR or Y2) it will be really beneficial for you so you can learn about how we teach your child to read and also how you can then support them at home when they start to blend the different sounds they have learned. We look forward to seeing you in school on Thursday.

TIES IN SCHOOL

I do not like to moan about ties again, but it seems that some children are getting a little complacent about wearing their ties. The tie is part of our school uniform, and it has been now for over four years. Please ensure your child wears their tie every day. Also, so they always look smart, we do expect all children to wear their shirts tucked in. If any member of staff sees a child whose shirt is not tucked in they will be asked to tidy themselves up. It is obviously much easier for them to do this when they are at home, so please support them with this. It is such a simple thing to do but it makes such a difference to their overall appearance and the pride with which they wear their uniform. Thank you, in advance.

CHRISTMAS PERFORMANCES

It will not be long now before our Early years and KS1 children will be performing their nativity play. To ensure that nobody is in breach of data protection laws, can we ask that you do not take any photos of any child other than your own. We do politely request that these photos are taken at the end, and not during the actual performance, because often parents stand up to take them which then obviously blocks someone else's view.

We know it is an exciting time, especially if it is your child's first nativity play, but we just request that everyone has consideration for all performers and all families. Some of our children are not allowed to appear on twitter or Facebook, so it would be really sad if their photo appeared there without any consent being given. Again, we usually have no problem with our parents exposing others, but we do feel like we need to remind people each other.

Please ensure you purchase a ticket from the office in plenty of time. We have a capacity of 100 per showing and we know, from experience, how disappointed our youngest children are in nobody comes to see them in their performance. They are available from Mrs Gough every day.

We look forward to seeing you there.

"Love one another, as I have loved you, in our home, school and parish families."

Well done to all of our wonderful stars this week.
